A+ Setup — Step-by-Step Playbook

MECHANICAL SYSTEM · EXPECTATIONS (ABC) → EXECUTION (XYZ) · PRIMARY: DAILY → H4

ABC — BUILDING BIAS / DIRECTION

Bias is built on the higher timeframes (Monthly, Weekly, Daily) using one of three methods below. Every method still requires a Break of Structure (BOS) one timeframe lower to confirm.

1 · Key Levels Only

1. On the starting HTF, wait for the candle to react from a key level.
2. Candle must close above the level (bullish bias) or below it (bearish bias) — closure is critical.
3. Drop one timeframe lower and look for a Break of Structure (BOS) to confirm direction.

2 · Liquidity Only

1. Price sweeps liquidity.
2. Candle closes below the swept level (bearish) or above it (bullish).
3. Drop one timeframe lower and confirm bias via BOS.

3 · Key Levels + Liquidity (Combined)

1. Price sweeps liquidity and taps into a key level.
2. Price rejects and closes below (bearish) or above (bullish).
3. Drop one timeframe lower and confirm bias via BOS.

Applies to any timeframe pair: M → W, W → D, D → H4.

✓ Bias is only confirmed once the BOS on the lower timeframe occurs — nothing else validates ABC.

XYZ — EXECUTION / ENTRY MODEL

✓ Rule: If ABC aligns → execute XYZ.

Intraday Flow (D → H4)

Refinement Steps

1. Confirm bias via H4 BOS / breakout (per the ABC process, using Daily as the starting timeframe).
2. Mark key levels on H4.
3. Wait for price to trade into the H4 key level, reject, and close (same logic as bias-building).
4. Drop to H2/H1 to look for the entry model.

Entry Model (Most Common)

H2 → H1 Engulfing Sequence

1. H2 — price sweeps Internal Range Liquidity (IRL) and closes back inside the range.
2. H1 — an engulfing candle forms → this is the entry trigger.

QUICK REFERENCE FLOW

Step	Meaning
HTF key level / liquidity reaction + close	Bias forms on starting timeframe
BOS one timeframe lower	Bias confirmed
H4 key level reaction + close	Refinement (D→H4 intraday flow)
H2 sweeps internal range liquidity + closes back inside range	Setup forming
H1 engulfing candle	ENTRY TRIGGER
